today's professional scholarship it concentrates upon the writings of a dozen or more major historians between the late 1800s and the middle 1900s who have contributed to the study of the history of ideas in America including Moses Coit Tyler, Edward Eggleston, Charles Beard, Carl Becker, Vernon Farrington, Merle Curti, Perry Miller, and Ralph Gabriel. The various histories are analyzed partly from the perspective of a developing scholarly discipline and partly from the perspective of the climate of opinion in which the histories were written. The methods employed by the historians in studying ideas as well as the substantive interpretations expressed in the histories are analyzed in relation to the world views or ideological positions of the historians themselves.

A moving and engaging debut novel shortens the dark nights. Santa Montefiore: an emotional and uplifting story of starting again. Perfect for fans of Hilary Boyd and The Tea Planter's Wife. Having suffered in silence since the tragic death of their young daughter, Lola, and Duncan Drummond's last chance to rediscover their love for one another lies in an anniversary holiday to the gorgeous Napa Valley. Unable to talk about what happened, Duncan reaches out to his wife the only way he knows how: he buys her a derelict house, the restoration of which might just restore their relationship. As Lola works on the house, she begins to realize the liberating power of letting go. But just as she begins to open up, Duncan's life begins to fall apart. After all the heartbreak, can Lola and Duncan learn to love again? A heartrending story well told about coping with unimaginable loss.

the phenomenon of studio goldsmithing when the history of art in the 1980s is written much of it will be etched in gold this is the time of the contemporary goldsmith an artist who chooses to work in precious metals rather than oils or marble the contemporary jeweler as artist has only recently become a recognized force with rare exceptions the whole field is little more than thirty years old but it is only within the past fifteen years that these jewelers have entered the jewelry mainstream the phenomenon of contemporary goldsmithing embraces an eclectic group of artists each with a unique vision each taking a personal path to jewelry producing they have as little relationship to the typical mass produced jewelry as a champagne maker has to a bottler of orange soda they approach a piece of art not a piece of metal the work is personal and a perfect expression of the back to the land movement that spawned it many of these goldsmiths were looking not merely for a way to make a living but for a way to make a life that was worthy of living running a business while trying to remain a creative metalsmith at the same time is the ongoing challenge the jeweler artists have solved or resolved these often conflicting needs in slightly different ways and in a beautiful variety of techniques and styles their methods their growth and their work are discussed here this essay appeared originally in the atlantic monthly for may 1883 during the thirty years which have elapsed since it was written the manifestations of the colonial spirit then apparent in the united states have not only altered in character but i am glad to say have weakened diminished and become less noticeable since 1883 also there has been much achieved by americans in art and literature in painting in sculpture in music and particularly in architecture success in all these fields has with few exceptions been won by men working in the spirit which is not colonial but which it was the purpose of this essay to inculcate as the true one to which alone we could look for fine and enduring achievement i have called attention to the date at which the essay was written in order that those who read it may remember that it applies in certain points to the conditions of thirty years ago and not to those of the present day
