How Well Do Executives Trust Their Intuition 2018-12-12 the purpose of life on earth is to realize who we are traditionally this had been called enlightenment self realization salvation or being born again the course of self realization cannot be followed by reason alone or by faith or intuition alone but only in a balanced approach that includes both reasoned thought and intuition mankind in this current time is overburdened by thought which produces an overemphasis on doing and achieving whatever is sought in the future in general people consider life to be a brief struggle to gain standing among their fellows people seek name fame and fortune in an effort to be special to stand out or get ahead in life self realization or awareness of awareness as identity frees the mind from thought as identity and allows an entirely different understanding to motivate action the individual becomes completely integrated in the one living reality that is timeless and needs no effort to be completely at peace as mankind words cannot express the nature of self realization and the worlds scriptures and holy books are written to help those who feel incomplete to free themselves from all suffering and negativity this book is a study in intuition and a commentary on the nature of meditative practice meditation or concentrated attention reveals progressive awakening and freedom from the need to awaken as i am the intention of the reading is to awaken intuition or deepen its presence stillness of mind is infinitely attractive to the human soul and when thinking mind becomes allied with intuition the sense of peace and joy exists as the finality of understanding there is no downside

Intuition, Imagination, and Philosophical Methodology 2010-12-09 is torturing the innocent ok just now something happened it seemed to you that torturing the innocent is wrong what kind of mental state were you in what is its nature perhaps you now believe that torturing the innocent is wrong because it just seemed to you that it is if so that seems appropriate but is it really and if so what could explain this in this book koksvik argues these mental states form a psychological kind called intuition and that having an intuition indeed justifies you in believing what it says what explains this he argues is how similar intuition is to perception through a detailed examination he shows that intuition just like perception is a conscious experience and that the two experience types have important properties in common in virtue of which they can both justify belief in sharp contrast to traditional thought koksvik argues that intuition is completely unrestricted in content we have intuitions about morality and metaphysics but also about all sorts of everyday things like danger or trustworthiness and in all cases they can justify the use of intuition is thus not only a legitimate part of philosophical and scientific practice it also plays a pervasive important and legitimate role in all of our everyday rational lives
