reported the bright children of janitors and nail salon workers bus drivers and fast food cooks may not have grown up with the edifying vacations museum excursions daily doses of npr and prep schools that groom ivy applicants but they are coveted candidates for elite campuses what happens to academically talented but economically challenged first gen students when they arrive on campus class markers aren't always visible from a distance but socioeconomic differences permeate campus life and the inner experiences of students in real and sometimes unexpected ways in class and campus life elizabeth m lee shows how class differences are enacted and negotiated by students faculty and administrators at an elite liberal arts college for women located in the northeast using material from two years of fieldwork and more than 140 interviews with students faculty administrators and alumnae at the pseudonymous linden college lee adds depth to our understanding of inequality in higher education an essential part of her analysis is to illuminate the ways in which the students and the college's practices interact rather than evaluating them separately as seemingly unrelated spheres she also analyzes underlying moral judgments brought to light through cultural connotations of merit hard work by individuals and making it on your own that permeate american higher education using students own descriptions and understandings of their experiences to illustrate the complexity of these issues lee shows how the lived experience of socioeconomic difference is often defined in moral as well as economic terms and that tensions often unspoken

Class and Campus Life 2016-04-22 annie s inner conflict was spiraling out of control by her constant struggle with the memories of her past her unceasing battle with her present and ever looming dread and fear for her future how could she find peace with all three each night her dream always started out the same way she was driving and it was night it was pitch black they drove into the dark and depressing night its blackness pressing in on them surrounding and suffocating them until it felt as if there was no air left to breath they were running from the piercing black that threatened to swallow them both then without warning the car in which annie was driving was speeding up and annie couldn t stop it she frantically stepped on the brake but it only caused the car to dash faster and faster into the night then she and the child and the car were falling into a black abyss and annie was reaching out for the small hand of the frightened child next to her she groped around in the dark touching the small fingers but was never able to grasp them and each time the dream or haunting occurred annie s nightmare brought with it more and more dread with an oncoming feeling of doom lurking in the shadows until annie found it as hard to be awake as it was to be asleep and her terror mounted with each passing dream until finally her past and her present collided bringing to annie something she never expected

The Sea Between Us 2010-02-26 inspired by the idealism of the civil rights movement the women who launched the radical second wave of the feminist movement believed as a bedrock principle in universal sisterhood and color blind democracy their hopes however were soon dashed to this day the failure to create an integrated movement remains a sensitive and contested issue in the trouble between us winifred breines explores why a racially integrated women s liberation movement did not develop in the united states drawing on flyers letters newspapers journals institutional records and oral histories breines dissects how white and black women s participation in the movements of the 1960s led to the development of separate feminisms herself a participant in these events Breines attempts to reconcile the explicit professions of anti racism by white feminists with the accusations of mistreatment ignorance and neglect by African American feminists many radical white women unable to see beyond their own experiences and idealism often behaved in unconsciously or abstractly racist ways despite their passionately anti racist stance and hard work to develop an interracial movement as Breines argues however white feminism is not the only reason for the absence of an interracial feminist movement segregation Black women's interest in the Black Power movement class differences and the development of identity politics with an emphasis on difference were all powerful factors that divided white and Black women by the late 1970s and early 1980s white feminists began to understand Black feminism's call to include race and class in gender analyses and Black feminists began to give white feminists some credit for their political work despite early setbacks white and Black radical feminists eventually developed cross racial feminist political projects their struggle to bridge the racial divide provides a model for all Americans in a multiracial society

The Trouble Between Us 2006-04-06 this is a beautifully written book that takes the reader to the heart of ethnography as experience readers can walk in the shoes of ethnographers who have travelled before them and learn as they learned Sara Delamont is an undisputed expert in both ethnography and education and here illustrates she is also a tour de force in writing style all the important ingredients for a recipe to make a good quality ethnography are here and they are served up with relish Karen O'Reilly Loughborough University this is a powerful richly nuanced evocative work a stunning and brilliantly innovative intervention it provides ground zero the starting place for the next generation of social scholars of education a major accomplishment Norman K Denzin University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign the ethnography of education has been conducted by sociologists and anthropologists largely in self contained and self referential ways this book celebrates the continuities and the strengths of ethnographic research on education in formal and non formal settings deliberately transgressing the sociology anthropology divide education is broadly defined to cover many settings other than schools in many countries for many age groups the book is structured thematically including chapters on movement and mobilities memorials and memories time and timescapes bodies and performativities multi sensory research and narratives strategies for designing innovative ethnographic projects and for fighting familiarity are provided

Key Themes in the Ethnography of Education 2013-12-05 in the united states less than one worker in five is currently in a labor union while in sweden virtually the entire workforce is unionized despite compelling evidence for their positive effects even the strongest european unions are now in retreat as some policymakers herald the u s model of market deregulation these differences in union power significantly affect workers living standards and the fortunes of national economies what explains the enormous variation in unionization and why has the last decade been so hostile to organized labor bruce western tackles these questions in an analysis of labor union organization in eighteen capitalist democracies from 1950 to 1990 combining insights from sociology and economics in a novel way western views unions as the joint product of market forces and political and economic institutions the author argues that three institutional conditions are essential for union growth strong working class political parties centralized collective bargaining and union run unemployment insurance these conditions shaped the impact of market currents and explain variations across industries across countries and over time for the four decades since 1950 between class and market traces the story of the postwar labor movements supported by a blend of historical investigation and sophisticated statistical analysis in an innovative framework for comparative research western tightly integrates institutional explanation and comparative method in a way that balances comparative generality with the unique historical experiences of specific cases

Between Class and Market 2020-06-30 this book is concerned with the classed and gendered characteristics of post 2004 migration between two non city locales in ireland newcastle west co limerick and poland tczew pomorskie voivodeship it documents and analyses this contemporary migration wave as a sociocultural phenomenon and sheds light on the strategies developed by the participants through which they rationalise and negotiate their mobile lifestyles content introduction chapter 1 polish capitalism and the legacies of communism and catholicism chapter 2 post 2004 polish migration to ireland chapter 3 theorising contemporary migration chapter 4 researching contemporary migration methodological considerations chapter 5 the trans local habitus reproducing rurality in migration chapter 6 ordinary people living normal lives formations of the migrant working class chapter 7 making migration livable negotiations between mobility and emplacement chapter 8 polish masculinities and femininities constructions of gender identities in migration conclusion

Trans-local Lives: Class, Gender and Rurality in post-2004 Migration between Ireland and Poland 2019-08-28 explanations of how identities are constructed are fundamental to contemporary debates in feminism and in cultural and social theory formations of class gender demonstrates why class should be featured more prominently in theoretical accounts of gender identity and power beverley skeggs identifies the neglect of class and shows how class and gender must be fused together to produce an accurate representation of power relations in modern society the book questions how theoretical frameworks are generated for understanding how women live and produce themselves through social and cultural relations it uses detailed ethnographic research to explain how real women inhabit and occupy the social and cultural posit

Formations of Class & Gender 1997-07-21 focusing on everyday life in nineteenth century Britain and its imperial possessions from preparing tea to cleaning the kitchen from packing for imperial adventures to arranging home décor the essays in this collection share a common focus on materiality the nitty gritty elements that helped give shape and meaning to British self definition during the period each essay demonstrates how preoccupations with common household goods and habits fueled contemporary debates about cultural institutions ranging from personal matters of marriage and family to more overtly political issues of empire building while existing scholarship on material culture in the nineteenth century has centered on artifacts in museums and galleries this collection brings together disparate fields history of design landscape history childhood studies and feminist and postcolonial literary studies to focus on ordinary objects and practices with specific attention to how Britons of all classes established the tenets of domesticity as central to individual happiness national security and imperial hegemony

The Objects and Textures of Everyday Life in Imperial Britain 2017-05-15 this volume delves into the study of the world's emerging middle class with essays on Europe the United States Africa Latin America and Asia the book studies recent trends and developments in middle class evolution at the global regional national and local levels it reconsiders the conceptualization of the middle class with a focus on the diversity of middle class formation in different regions and zones of world society it also explores middle class lifestyles and everyday experiences including experiences of social mobility feelings of insecurity and anxiety and even middle class engagement with social activism drawing on extensive fieldwork and in depth interviews the book provides a sophisticated analysis of this new and rapidly expanding socioeconomic group and puts forth some provocative ideas for intellectual and policy debates it will be of importance to students and researchers of sociology economics development studies political studies latin american studies and asian studies

The Middle Class in World Society 2020-05-21 while the baltic states continue to develop into free market economies these nation s new legal and political institutions are still in a process of formation political organization is in a state of flux labor relations and labor markets are practically nonexistent these unusual conditions of change present challenging problems to the sociologist unique in approach this book emphasizes techniques for merging systemic social and communal levels of analysis providing a coherent view in a difficult area of research it is argued that cyclical rather than linear concepts of change are the more fruitful in evaluating mechanisms of social transformation

Between Plan and Market 2014-05-14 when discussing inequality and poverty in hong kong scholars and politicians often focus on the failures of government policy and push for an increase in social welfare richard wong argues in fixing inequality in hong kong that universal retirement support minimum wage and standard hours of work are of limited effect in shrinking the inequality gap by comparing hong kong with singapore he points out that hong kong needs a new and long term strategy on human resource policy he recommends more investment in education focusing on early education and immigration policy reforms to attract highly educated and skilled people to join the workforce in analyzing what causes inequality this book ties disparate issues together into a coherent framework such as hong kong s aging population lack of investment in human capital and family breakdowns rising divorce rates among low income households have worsened the housing shortage driving rents and property prices upwards housing problems have created a bigger gap between those who own housing and have the ability to invest in their children s human capital and those who cannot thus adversely impacting intergenerational upward mobility this is the third of richard wong s collections of articles on society and economy in hong kong diversity and occasional anarchy and hong kong land for hong kong people published by hong kong university press in 2013 and 2015 respectively discuss growing economic and social contradictions in hong kong and current housing problems and their solutions

Fixing Inequality in Hong Kong 2017-02-01 phillip barnes his brother paul and their best friend barry mcalister each join the central pacific railroad for different reasons but they are all searching their terms in the military during the vietnam war are finished their love lives are in varying states of disrepair and their futures are wide open what follows for them is a railroad life and a set of incredibly unique destinies the rails phillip paul and barry choose to ride on the rails that choose them lead the three men in various directions but their destinies intertwine for years as they wrestle with love heartbreak parenthood marriage survival faith and the elements of nature and manmade machine the career they choose is as demanding dangerous and disruptive as any on the planet but they strive to make it their own over time they meet many exceptional talented railroaders whose philosophies on life impact their own forever for better or worse mark twain said experience is an authors most valuable asset experience is the thing that puts the muscle and breath and the warm blood in the book he writes author charles f mori writes from over thirty five years on the railroad living and working with men whose lives made truer more pure stories than any seen in hollywood

US-50 Construction Between Salida and Coaldate, Chaffee County 1975 between mission and market the freshman year in a corporate age focuses on the arrival of college freshmen at the moment of the transformation it uses adelphi university in suburban new york city to study an attempt to resolve first year difficulties as higher education institutions turn into enterprises run on business models the pressures of getting into college including the taking of the sat and act have induced stress addictions eating disorders drug use and mental problems

however special programs to ease the first year transition through counseling and support are run as cheaply as possible this book confronts some of the cardinal controversies in higher education particularly those affecting first year students high stakes testing in general particularly the sat the intensification of student debt and the financial sentence imposed upon all who incur it and the dramatic pressures placed upon freshmen as they transition to college

Wisconsin Farmers' Institutes 1895 history books are usually written by victors while the defeated write poetry and words of nostalgia hoping for better days this volume takes major defeats in jewish history and tries to describe what happens to a defeated nation and how in the specific case of israel and the jews the trauma of defeat engenders hope and forces the survivors to learn lessons for the future the destruction of the two jewish temples in antiquity the holocaust and the 1973 war serve as case studies to illustrate the problematic national grief as a result of disasters is a process of recuperation drawing lessons learned from the event will help the nation come out of trauma survivors commemorating the dead also help that process

In Between the Rails 2011-03-23 in the late nineteenth century in a number of continental european countries christian associations of workers arose christian trade unions workers cooperatives political leagues workers youth movements and cultural associations sometimes separately for men and women in some countries they formed a unified christian labour movement which sometimes also belonged to a broader christian subculture or pillar encompassing all social classes in traditional labour history christian workers organizations were solely represented as dividing the working class and weakening the class struggle however from the 1980s onwards a considerable amount of studies have been devoted to christian workers organizations that adopted a more nuanced approach this book takes stock of this new historiography to broaden the analysis each contribution compares the development in at least two countries thus generating new comparative insights this volume assesses the development of christian workers organizations in europe from a broad historical and comparative perspective the contributions focus on the collective identity of the christian workers organization their denominational and working class allegiances and how these are expressed in ideology organization and practice among the themes discussed are relations with churches and christian democracy secularization the development of the welfare state industrial relations and the contribution to working class culture this volume is the result of a joint intellectual enterprise of the international institute of social history iisg in amsterdam netherlands and a group of scholars linked to the kadoc documentation and research centre for religion culture and society of the ku leuven catholic university leuven belgium

Lessons on Objects, Graduated Series 1869 in revelations of ideology g anthony keddie critically investigates the social motivations and implications of apocalyptic class rhetoric in late second temple judaism including the jesus movement

Between Mission and Market 2017-04-26 this provocative book addresses the ideological and political crisis of the western left comparing it with the problems facing leftist politics in russia and other countries the author presents a radical critique of the current state of the western left which puts discourse above class interest and politics of diversity above politics of social change the trajectory away from class politics towards feminism minority rights and the coalition of coalitions led to the destruction of the basic strategic pillars of the movement some elements of this broad progressive agenda became mainstream but in fact this made the crisis of the left even deeper and contributed to the disintegration of the left s identity the author demonstrates that a simple return to the good old times of classical socialist politics of the industrial age is not possible suggesting that class politics must be redefined and reinvented through the experience of new radical populism this book speaks directly to the way the identity politics class politics divide has been framed within the english speaking world it will be of great interest to scholars and students of political science and political sociology international relations security studies and global studies as well as socialist activists Lessons on Objects; as given to children between the ages of six and eight, in a Pestalozzian School, at Cheam, Surrey. Sixth edition. With a preface by C. Mayo 1853 the book covers the research on economic inequality including the social construction of racial categories the uneven and stalled gender revolution and the role of new educational forms and institutions in generating both equality and inequality

Between Cross and Class 2005 a typical image of the making and administration of policy suggests that it takes place on an incremental basis involving public servants their ministers and to a more limited extent a variety of interest groups yet much policy making is based on similar policy developed in other jurisdictions and in the major international organizations such as the wto and the oecd in other words significant aspects of nationally developed policies are copied from elsewhere in what is described as a process of policy transfer and learning hence studies of policy transfer have pointed to a distinct limitation in most existing theoretical and empirical explanations as to how policy is made and implemented through their neglect of the role of policy transfer and learning moreover policy transfer is not only a concern of academics but a growing concern for governments the latter are concerned to improve the performance of their policy and several have placed a greater more systematic focus on policy transfer as a means to increasing performance this book presents a variety of cases from differing national and international contexts that enable a valuable comparative analysis that is absent from most literature currently available and that suggest a number of exciting research directions with implications for policy making transference and implementation in the future

Between Class and Discourse: Left Intellectuals in Defence of Capitalism

2020-10-11 by providing new understanding and insights into the backgrounds and experiences of women pursuing administrative careers in education pushing the limits fills a critical void in the existing literature sakre edson s five year investigation documents the accounts of 142 nonminority and minority women across the united states seeking administrative roles an area of public school responsibility where women remain underrepresented edson s book is unique in its focus on aspirants those women currently preparing and competing for principalships and other top administrative positions rather than on established female administrators or on women who have chosen not to aspire beyond the classroom the female teachers graduate students and entry level administrators quoted here give voice to the struggles would be female school executives face and their experiences and reflections not only question the impact of the women s movement and equity legislation upon employment practices but serve to illuminate the problems of women and minorities excluded from managerial ranks in professions outside of education throughout the work one theme prevails as they push the limits of this traditional male bastion these women are confident in their abilities to succeed and even to excel in managing the nation's schools

Social Stratification 2018-05-04 havelock ellis reputation has been in free fall since his death in 1939 though still acknowledged as a pioneer in the study of human sexuality he now evokes hostility from those he would have considered his natural heirs feminist authors have been particularly critical identifying him as the kind of friend women would have done well to ignore while there is no need to put ellis back on his pedestal it is clear that recent interpretations underestimate his significance for progressive politics on both sides of the atlantic this book examines the many areas to which he contributed preventive medicine progressive penology internationalism the championing of ibsen and nietzsche as well as feminism and human sexuality and argues that the vision unifying his endeavors was rooted in the radical generational movement which swept through london in the late nineteenth century this approach offers both appreciation of ellis and a richer more realistic view of the progressive tradition itself

The Duel Between France and Germany; With Its Lesson to Civilization 2023-04-26 this book features a cutting edge approach to the study of film adaptations of literature for children and young people and the narratives about childhood those adaptations enact historically film media has always had a partiality for the adaptation of classic literary texts for children as economic and cultural commodities mccallum points out how such screen adaptations play a crucial role in the cultural reproduction and transformation of childhood and youth and indeed are a rich resource for the examination of changing cultural values and ideologies particularly around contested narratives of childhood the chapters examine various representations of childhood as shifting states of innocence and wildness liminality marginalisation and invisibility the book focuses on a range of literary and film genres from classic texts to experimental carnivalesque magical realist and cross cultural texts
