The Mentor 2013-11-01 as a newly appointed middle school principal in a small town, Hannah Gardner wonders if there is a manual for leading an organization using head, heart, and spirit. Her life changes when Dr. Maddy Mathews, a recently retired superintendent from a neighboring district, is hired as interim superintendent. Once on board, Maddy sees that a great divide exists among the board members: an unscrupulous middle school coach, the town's former football hero, has been promised Hannah's position once he completes the certification requirements. Maddy, however, sees Hannah's outstanding character and high ideals combined with compassion for her students and staff and decides to mentor her. Their weekly conversations ignite conceptual thinking and greater awareness as Hannah learns to trust her inner voice. Maddy not only mentors Hannah but also works with all the administrators to foster change in a place where power has been misused by introducing three leadership models. As well as the three Cs, the administrators explore new paradigms to balance work and play, embracing the next generation of student mastery throughout the school year. The relationship between Hannah and her mentor reveals the challenges and opportunities of leading a school district with love while addressing political, social, and personal issues that require courage, integrity, and candor.

Mentors and Mentoring 2013-12-16 the definition and parameters of teacher education have recently been changed by the concept of mentoring. Supporters of the concept maintain that it is an effective technique for inducting and retaining new teachers, but who and what are mentors and what attributes do they possess? Previous research has identified collaboration, enthusiasm, emotional commitment, and sensitivity as the necessary traits of an effective mentor. It has also been found that mentors are available, give immediate feedback, listen attentively, and collaboratively solve problems with mentees. Epistemological structures that best serve the mentor-mentee relationship, gender issues between mentors and protégés, and moral development orientations within the mentor-mentee relationship have also been investigated. Thus, mentoring is a complex activity that involves a mentor, an intern or novice, and a process within a predetermined structure. The articles in this special issue validate the fact that the terms "good mentor" and "effective mentoring relationship" often elude easy definition. However, a common theme emerges: the mentor-mentee relationship is a transformative one that can change the course of one's life.
