Space and Spatiality in Modern German-Jewish History

2017-06-01

what makes a space jewish this wide ranging volume revisits literal as well as metaphorical spaces in modern german history to examine the ways in which jewishness has been attributed to them both within and outside of jewish communities and what the implications have been across different eras and social contexts working from an expansive concept of the spatial these contributions look not only at physical sites but at professional political institutional and imaginative realms as well as historical jewish experiences of spacelessness together they encompass spaces as varied as early modern print shops and weimar cinema always pointing to the complex intertwining of german and jewish identity

Measuring Public Space: The Star Model

2014-09-28

this book shows how urban design can complement other disciplines when tackling the complex task of understanding and improving the built environment s public realm it also bridges the gap between theory and practice as it draws from empirical research to suggest more quantitative approaches towards auditing and improving public places by seeing where and why certain public places fail direct and informed interventions can be made to improve them and through this contribute to the building of more attractive and sustainable cities

Security and Defence: Ethical and Legal Challenges in the Face of Current Conflicts

2022-03-17

this book aspires to face the challenge of analyzing with due academic rigor always in the paradigm of security and advanced sciences but without forgetting the ethical questions that our world raises every day the work is divided into two main sections the first section is focused on the cyber world with not only technical but also legal derivations given the expansion of vulnerabilities and our technological dependence the second section with a more interdisciplinary nature runs through undeniably topical issues such as territorial problems and the potential decline of the traditional states the communicational impact of information management and false news or the commitment to essential freedoms for the west this book connects advanced technologies and ethical issues and includes discussions on recent crises such as covid 19 it also provides an interdisciplinary view on the ethical issues for security technologies

Contested Civic Spaces

2023-07-04

for some years we have observed a broad public discussion over the shrinking civic space while the focus has generally been on countries with authoritarian governance systems it has more recently become apparent that the issue is neither restricted to these countries nor indeed to countries with weak or non existing democracies it has been demonstrated that the space in which civil society actors and individual citizens may contribute to public affairs is undergoing fundamental changes in europe while in some areas the clout of civic initiative is larger today than ever before in others civic action is highly disputed and governments are attempting to crowd out non governmental actors from the public sphere this edited volume examines the wellbeing of civil society in the europe and its riparian states presented by experts from 12 european countries the book presents insights in the latest developments of civil society and aspect like the shifting interaction between the state market and civil society or the influence of populist movements on civil society and tackles the question wether there is a shrinking civic space in europe it addresses policy and decision makers civil society academics and actors in the field as well as the public

Shopping Malls and Public Space in Modern China

2015-10-28

this volume addresses a less explored aspect of china s urban rejuvenation the prominence of the shopping mall as a keystone of its public spaces here the presence of the built form most representative of western capitalism s excess is one that makes explicit the tensions between china s communist state and its ascent within the free market this book examines how these interrelationships are manifested in the culturally hybrid built form of the shopping mall and its role in contesting the public space of the modern chinese city

Atmospheres: Aesthetics of Emotional Spaces originally published in italian in 2010 this book is the first to address the theory of atmospheres in a thorough and systematic way it examines the role of atmospheres in daily life and defines their main characteristics outlining the typical phenomenological situations in which we experience atmospheres it assesses their impact on contemporary aesthetics it puts forward a philosophical approach which systematises a constellation of affects and climates finds patterns in the emotional tones of different spaces affordances and assesses their impact on the felt body it also critically discusses the spatial turn invoked by several of the social sciences and argues that there is a need for a non psychologistic rethinking of the philosophy of emotions it provides a history of the term atmosphere and of the concepts anticipating its meaning genius loci aura stimmung numinous emotional design and ambiance and examines the main ontological characteristics of atmospheres and their principal phenomenological characteristics it concludes by showing how atmospheres affect our emotions our bodies reactions our state of mind and as a result our behaviour and judgments griffero assesses how atmospheres are more effective than we have been rationally willing to admit and to what extent traditional aesthetics unilaterally oriented towards art has underestimated this truth

2014-06-28

The Design of Frontier Spaces

2016-03-09

in a globalizing world frontiers may be in flux but they remain as significant as ever new borders are established even as old borders are erased beyond lines on maps however borders are spatial zones in which distinctive architectural graphic and other design elements are deployed to signal the nature of the space and to guide if not actually control behaviour and social relations within it this volume unpacks how manipulations of space and design in frontier zones historically as well as today set the stage for specific kinds of interactions and convey meanings about these sites and the experiences they embody frontier zones organize an array of functions to facilitate the passage of goods information and people and to define and control access bringing together studies from asia africa the middle east europe and north america this collection of essays casts a wide net to consider borders of diverse sorts investigations of contemporary political frontiers are set within the context of examinations of historical borders borders that have existed within cities and virtual borders this range allows for reflection on shifts in how frontier zones are articulated and the impermanence of border emplacements as well as on likely scenarios for future frontiers this text is unique in bringing together a number of scholarly perspectives in the arts and humanities to examine how spatial and architectural design decisions convey meaning shape or abet specific social practices and stage memories of frontier zones that no longer function as such it joins and expands discussions in social science disciplines in which considerations of border practices tend to overlook the role of built form and material culture more broadly in representing social practices and meanings

Understanding Innovation in Emerging Economic Spaces

2016-03-09

a small number of countries regions cities and localities are powerful gatekeepers and generate the bulk of creative and innovative ideas while the majority is largely excluded this book looks at neglected but emerging innovation centres analysed from various spatial and organizational perspectives ranging from entire countries and regions to individual firms and small neighbourhoods bringing together leading scholars from various disciplines it examines a variety of economic sectors including biotechnology agrotourism and the food retail industry the authors employ various often contradictory concepts ranging from local buzz and the global pipeline through an analysis of collective learning processes to geographical embeddedness using both qualitative and quantitative approaches the purpose of the book is twofold investigating changes occurring in the regions and cities under transformation and attempting to find common and unique mechanisms behind these changes consequently the authors shed light on the scale and scope of the innovativeness of selected economic and social processes

Mapping Gendered Routes and Spaces in the Early Modern World

2016-03-03

how did gender figure in understandings of spatial realms from the inner spaces of the body to the furthest reaches of the globe how did women situate themselves in the early modern world and how did they move through it in both

real and imaginary locations how do new disciplinary and geographic connections shape the ways we think about the early modern world and the role of women and men in it these are the questions that guide this volume which includes articles by a select group of scholars from many disciplines art history comparative literature english german history landscape architecture music and women s studies each essay reaches across fields and several are written by interdisciplinary groups of authors the essays also focus on many different places including rome amsterdam london and paris and on texts and images that crossed the atlantic and the mediterranean or that portrayed real and imagined people who did many essays investigate topics key to the spatial turn in various disciplines such as borders and their permeability actual and metaphorical spatial crossings travel and displacement and the built environment

The Loop Approach

2020-05

how best to adapt established companies to a rapidly changing economy has long been a topic of debate in both the corporate and academic worlds this challenge is especially pressing for large organizations that may have grown top heavy and rigid with time but now need to be light on their feet to stay relevant and profitable until now the best attempts have consisted of plucking tools and methods from the world of start ups and applying them wholesale in large corporate environments most of these efforts have either fizzled or failed outright because they lacked a framework for a comprehensive corporation sized rollout the loop approach introduces a new series of methods that could help change the course of operations for even the most colossal organizations sebastian klein and ben hughes provide a wide ranging set of guidelines for achieving corporate agility complete with checklists and worksheets that should prove instantly applicable want proof the methods outlined in the loop approach have already been successfully implemented at such european corporate giants as audi deutsche bahn and telekom

Rites of Way

there are many ways to approach the subject of public space the threats posed to it by surveillance and visual pollution the joys it offers of stimulation and excitement of anonymity and transformation its importance to urban variety or democratic politics but public space remains an evanescent and multidimensional concept that too often escapes scrutiny the essays in rites of way the politics and poetics of public space open up multiple dimensions of the concept from architectural political philosophical and technological points of view there is some historical analysis here but the contributors are more focused on the future of public space under conditions of growing urbanization and democratic confusion the added interest offered by non academic work visual art fiction poetry and drama is in part an admission that this is a topic too important to be left only to theorists it also makes an implicit argument for the crucial role that art not just public art plays in a thriving public realm throughout this work contributors are guided by the conviction not pious but steely that healthy public space is one of the best living parts of a just society the paths of desire we follow in public trace and speak our convictions and needs our interests and foibles they are the vectors and walkways of the social the public dimension of life lying at the heart of all politics
