professional development themes explored include analysis of critical incidents as a strategy for developing reflective practice. This benchmark 6 volume set presents a comprehensive body of research on the history of multicultural education in the U.S. These volumes bring together archival documents spanning the last 30-40 years to analyze the development, implementation, and interpretation of multicultural education. Originally published with Teachers College Press in 1992, the foreword by Maxine Greene asks: "Are teachers ever given the credit and respect they deserve? Is there a place where they can go to be treated as intelligent professionals rather than as underpaid tools of school administrations or the government?" For some teachers, the answer to these questions is finally yes. The focus of a place for teacher renewal is the North Carolina Center for the Advancement of Teaching, a state-funded, university-based program located in the Western North Carolina mountains and designed to renew and retain teachers of all kinds as an exemplary teacher renewal and staff development program. NCCAT strengthens teachers' commitment to their practice by offering outstanding teachers the opportunity for intensive personal investigation into topics inside or outside of their specialties. This hands-on study is extensive, concrete, and engaging—just what many teachers need after the tediousness and hectic pace of classroom life. They need a chance to use their intellect just for themselves; teachers given a chance to express their full adult selves; a chance to be renewed by intellectual challenge; a chance to be valued as competent professionals. More likely to stay in the profession, chapters provide the reader with a historical perspective on the center, arguments for the rationale of the center, an overview of the programs offered, the roles of administration and evaluation in the creation and continued success of the center, and NCCAT's future role in teacher renewal. Many chapters are written by NCCAT staff members, all of whom are also experienced educators. A foreword by Maxine Greene and a chapter by Gary Griffin, as respected educators not affiliated with NCCAT, offer objective and very supportive comments on an idea and a program that is long overdue. Staff developers and anyone interested in teacher retention and renewal will find this case study of the finest teacher renewal program in the nation to be an invaluable resource. This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 27th ATEE Spring Conference on Social Justice, Media, and Technology, ATEE 2021, held in Florence, Italy, during October 28-30, 2021. The 19 full papers included in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 49 submissions. They were organized in topical sections as follows: Teaching Critical Media; Digital Literacy in Multicultural Societies; Decommodifying Teacher Education and Digital Technology; and Equity for Inclusive Teaching. The second edition of this popular book contains loads of recipes, readings, and resources. Students will delight in preparing their own porridge and pudding, making candles, soap, and ink, or trying out the pioneers' recipe for sourdough biscuits as they explore different periods in U.S. history. An ideal supplement for social studies classes and homeschoolers.
