Professional Responsibility 2009 written by nationally recognized insurance law practitioners and academics insurance practices and coverage in liability defense second edition formerly titled defending the insured provides the first comprehensive and objective analysis of the various duties and potential pitfalls confronting each party in the three way relationship between insurance carrier insured and the appointed counsel in insurance defense each chapter provides a detailed discussion of topics engendered by the duty to defend and the consequent obligations of each of the parties reference tables and appendices then survey the law in each state on those topics the result is a book that provides both a national study and state specific analysis allowing practitioners courts and researchers the ability to see the big picture as well as to focus on and compare how states actually deal with the particular issue topics covered include the use of staff counsel billing guidelines audits of attorneys and fees reservations of rights communication privileges and issues and cooperation duties conflicts of interest control of the defense including independent counsel allocation of defense costs between insurer and insured allocation of indemnity expense between insurer and insured allocation and determination of deductibles and self coverage allocation in multi year continuing loss cases including horizontal and vertical exhaustion stacking and all sums and application and features of judicial remedies of declaratory relief and intervention insurance practices and coverage in liability defense second edition is the book that combines practice and theory that serves both the insurer and insured the national practitioner and the local counsel and informs courts where concurrence and divergence exist on the sometimes thorny interrelated issues

Professional Responsibility 1983 after the act describes the aftermath of the recent removal under laspo of public funding from legal services in family matters other than in defined cases such as child protection and domestic abuse through analysis of the policy context interviews with key players observation of services provided by lawyers students lay support workers and the advice sector the authors outline the work being done and the skills being used in a range of settings the book raises questions not only about access to family justice but about the role of law in family matters in an increasingly post legal society fragmentation of the market in the new services offering information initial advice online or alternative dispute resolution but rarely ongoing casework raises questions about where costs fall and how quality can be assured many of these services are forms of private ordering where outcomes are hard to assess if neither the state nor the individual can afford full legal services where the best interests of any child involved are of paramount importance and lawyers negotiate to make best use of the resources available perhaps it is time to consider using lawyers differently with lay support to solve problems before they become disputes
