this book is based on a participatory action research project carried out with a group of former zimbabwe people s revolutionary army zpra which was the armed wing of the zimbabwe african people s union zapu which was led by the late joshua nkomo zpra was the primary target of gukurahundi a pogrom by the mugabe government which left an estimated 20 000 civilians dead and countless others tortured in the early 1980s in matebeleland zimbabwe it has been almost 30 years since the violence ended but there has never been an official healing and reconciliation programme or truth commission into the atrocities the government chose the path of amnesia by granting a blanket amnesty to all involved the regime has enforced a culture of silence over the event through repression and intimidation the book is a culmination of a two year journey by the group and the author of an exploration of group based self healing approaches to the pain caused by the violence of gukurahundi the amicus curiae or friend of the court is the main mechanism for actors other than the parties including civil society actors and states to participate directly in proceedings in international criminal tribunals yet reliance on this mechanism raises a number of significant questions concerning the functions performed by amici which actors seek to intervene and why and the influence of amicus interventions on judicial outcomes ultimately the amicus curiae may have a significant impact on the fairness representativeness and legitimacy of the tribunals proceedings and decisions this book provides a comprehensive examination of the amicus curiae practice of the international criminal court and other major international criminal tribunals and offers suggestions for the role of the amicus curiae in doing so the authors develop a framework to augment the potential contributions of amicus participation in respect of the legitimacy of international criminal tribunals and their decisions while minimising interference with the core judicial competence of the tribunal and the right of the accused to a fair and expeditious trial peoples and minorities in many parts of the world assert a right to self determination autonomy and even secession from a state which naturally conflicts with that state s sovereignty and territorial integrity the right of a people to self determination and secession has existed as a concept within international law since the american declaration of independence in 1776 but the exact definition of these concepts and the conditions required for their application remain unclear the advisory opinion of the international court of justice concerning the declaration of independency of kosovo 2010 which held that the kosovo declaration of independence was not in violation of international law has only led to further questions this book takes four conflicts in the post soviet commonwealth of independent states cis as a starting point for examining the current state of the law of self determination and secession four entities transnistria moldova south ossetia abkhazia both georgia and nagorno karabakh azerbaijan claim to be entitled not only to self determination but also to secession from their mother state for this entitlement they rely on historic affiliations and on charges of discrimination and massive human rights violations committed by their mother state this book sets out its analysis of these critical issue in three parts providing a detailed understanding of the principles of international law on which they rely the first part sets out the contours and meaning of self determination and secession including an overall assessment of secession within the commonwealth of independent states the second section provides case studies investigating the events in transnistria south ossetia abkhazia and nagorno karabach in greater detail the third and final section extends the scope of the examination providing a comparative analysis of similar conflicts involving questions of self determination and secession in kosovo western sahara and eritrea the literary canon implies the evaluation or estimation of certain literary texts as the most important during a particular time the canon is not merely a set of texts it is a set of standards evaluative procedures and values belonging to a canon confers a guarantee of literary greatness a canon is formed by a particular group to channelize cultural hegemony over others or can be constructed by a governed group to bring about cultural symmetry the rise of diverse literatures in english in different parts of the world after the colonial rule of england was the consequence of an urge to articulate a cultural equilibrium or an urge to strike back the process of canon formation is also a focused and bigoted act and is always carried out to accomplish certain self centred objectives it is commonly accepted that canon formation is executed to accomplish or naturalize certain ideological functions in the sphere of indian english literature indian english fiction after the end of the 1980s has emerged as a new canon this book looks into the process of literary canon formation in indian universities and examines such fiction as an alternative literary canon and as an anti imperialistic response to the british literary canon the book ascertains the anti imperialistic design involved in forming the canon of post 1980 indian english fiction examines the gradual emerging trends in such fiction and discerns the role of language culture and native ethos in the formation of a canon it also differentiates post 1980s indian english fiction from british fiction bhasa fiction and even from pre 1980s indian english fiction
