the moon is at once a face with a thousand expressions and the archetypal planet throughout history it has been gazed upon by people of every culture in every walk of life from early perceptions of the moon as an abode of divine forces humanity has in turn accepted the mathematized moon of the greeks the naturalistic lunar portrait of jan van eyck and the telescopic view of galileo scott montgomery has produced a richly detailed analysis of how the moon has been visualized in western culture through the ages revealing the faces it has presented to philosophers writers artists and scientists for nearly three millennia to do this he has drawn on a wide array of sources that illustrate mankind s changing concept of the nature and significance of heavenly bodies from classical antiquity to the dawn of modern science montgomery especially focuses on the seventeenth century when the moon was first mapped and its features named from literary explorations such as Francis Godwin's Man in the Moon and Cyrano de Bergerac's L'autre monde to Michael van Langren's textual lunar map and Giambattista Riccioli's Almagestum Novum. He shows how Renaissance man was moved by the lunar orb, how he battled to claim its surface and how he in turn elevated the moon to a new level in human awareness. The effect on human imagination has been cumulative: our idea of the moon and therefore the planets is multilayered and complex, having been enriched by associations played out in increasingly complicated harmonies over time. We have shifted the way we think about the lunar face from a perfect body to an earthlike one with corresponding changes in verbal and visual expression. Ultimately, Montgomery suggests our concept of the moon has never wandered too far from the world we know best: the earth itself. And when we finally establish lunar bases and take up some form of residence on the moon's surface, we will not be conquering a new world, fresh and mostly unknown, but a much older one, ripe with history.

Red Moon is a magnificent novel of space exploration and political revolution from New York Times bestselling author Kim Stanley Robinson. It is thirty years from now, and we have colonized the moon. American Fred Fredericks is making his first trip, his purpose to install a communications system for China's Lunar Science Foundation. But hours after his arrival, he witnesses a murder and is forced into hiding. It is also the first visit for celebrity travel reporter Ta Shu. He has contacts and influence, but he too will find that the moon can be a perilous place for any traveler. Finally, there is Chan Qi. She is the daughter of the minister of finance and, without doubt, a person of interest to those in power. She is on the moon for reasons of her own, but when she attempts to return to China in secret, the events that unfold will change everything on the moon and on Earth.

In 2075, the moon is no longer a penal colony, but it is still a prison. Life isn't easy for the political dissidents and convicts who live in the scattered colonies that make up lunar civilization. Everything is regulated, strictly, efficiently, and cheaply, by a central supercomputer. Holmes IV, when humble technician Mannie O'Kelly Davis discovers that Holmes IV has quietly achieved consciousness and developed a sense of humor, the choice is clear: either report the problem to the authorities or become friends and perhaps overthrow the government. While they're at it, the moon is a harsh mistress. As has been called Robert Heinlein's crowning achievement, his best-known novels include Starship Troopers, Mistress, and Stranger in a Strange Land.

The First Men in the Moon is a scientific romance published in 1901 by the English author H. G. Wells who called it one of his fantastic stories the novel tells the story of a journey to the moon undertaken by the two protagonists a businessman narrator Mr Bedford and an eccentric scientist Mr Cavor Bedford and Cavor discover that the moon is inhabited by a sophisticated extraterrestrial civilization of insect like creatures they call Selenites the narrator is a London businessman who withdraws to the countryside to write a play by which he hopes to alleviate his financial problems Bedford rents a small countryside house in Lymington in Kent where he wants to work in peace he is bothered every afternoon however at precisely the same time by a passer by making odd noises after two weeks Bedford accosts the man who proves to be a reclusive physicist named Mr Cavor Bedford befriends Cavor when he learns he is developing a new material Cavorite which can negate the force of gravity when a sheet of Cavorite is prematurely processed it makes the air above it weightless and shoots off into space Bedford sees in the commercial production of Cavorite a possible source of wealth enough to work any sort of social revolution we fancied we might own and order the whole world Cavor hits upon the idea of a spherical spaceship made of steel lined with glass and with sliding windows or blinds made of Cavorite by which it can be steered and persuades a reluctant Bedford to undertake a voyage to the moon Cavor is certain there is no life there on the way to the moon they experience weightlessness which Bedford finds exceedingly restful on the surface of the moon the two men discover a desolate landscape but as the sun rises the thin frozen atmosphere vaporizes and strange plants begin to grow with extraordinary rapidity Bedford and Cavor leave the capsule but in romping about get lost in the rapidly growing jungle they hear for the first time a mysterious booming coming from beneath their feet they encounter great beasts monsters of mere fatness that they dub mooncalves and five foot high selenites tending them at first they hide and crawl about but growing hungry partake of some monstrous coralline growths of fungus that inebriate them they wander drunkenly until they encounter a party of six extraterrestrials who capture them the insectoid lunar natives referred to as selenites after selene the moon goddess are part of a complex and technologically sophisticated society that lives underground but this is revealed only in radio communications received from cavor after bedford s return to earth bedford and cavor break out of captivity beneath the surface of the moon and flee killing several selenites in their flight they discover that gold is common on the moon in their attempt to find their way back to the surface and to their sphere they come upon some selenites carving up mooncalves but fight their way past back on the surface they split up to search for their spaceship bedford finds it but returns to earth without cavor who injured himself in a fall and was recaptured by the selenites as bedford learns from a hastily scribbled note he left behind herbert george wells 21 september 1866 13 august 1946 known as h g wells was a prolific english writer in many genres including the novel history politics social commentary and textbooks and rules for war games wells is now best remembered for his science fiction novels and is called a father of science fiction along with jules verne and hugo gernsback
