dialogue is one of the best vehicles for learning how to think how to be reasonable how to make moral decisions and how to understand another person s point of view it is supremely flexible instructional collaborative and rigorous at its very best dialogue is one of the best ways for participants to learn good habits of thinking there is also substantial evidence that teachers currently talk too much in classes often only waiting 8 seconds after asking a question before jumping in with the answer if a student doesn't quickly volunteer this book guides teachers through the different types of dialogue and how they can be used to enhance students learning the outrageous idea of this book is that god wants to use professors as professors to reach others transform the academy and meet the needs of the world god is on a mission to redeem and restore this fallen world and as members of one of the most influential institutions in society christian professors in the university play an important role in that mission becoming a missional professor will require a clear vision of god's heart for the lost as well as humankind's purpose and calling under the banner of christ an understanding of the significance of the university as a cultural shaping institution and mission field and a desire for christian wholeness in a fragmented world this idea is outrageous because many christian professors struggle to live missionally and need a clear vision of such a life as well as role models to lead the way many professors already living missional lives need encouragement to excel still more 1 thess 4:10 we all need god's grace and mercy as we try to faithfully follow christ within the university paul m. gould phd purdue university teaches philosophy and apologetics at oklahoma baptist university and is the founder and president of the two tasks institute d. keith campbell phd southeastern this book focuses on the influence of philanthropic foundations in global development and on how the global south has engaged with them the idea of corporate philanthropy stretches back a long way with the late 19th industrialist andrew carnegie seeing it as an important obligation of the very wealthy in the modern day bill gates has taken up this call suggesting that the very wealthy should donate half their wealth to philanthropic causes and endowing his own foundation with something in the order of 50 billion this book brings together case studies of the most influential of these foundations over the last one hundred years the rockefeller ford and gates foundations investigating their impact on education and research health and agriculture the book concludes by asking whether global south foundations such as al waleed philanthropies tata trusts and those from china may point to the future of global philanthropic foundations the sheer scale of resources that foundations can devote to their work results in significant influence in global politics to the point that foundations can drive and even set government policy this influence is likely to grow in the post covid environment making this book an important resource for researchers practitioners and policy makers working on global development
