these three films marked the culmination of the director's career as well as the zenith of one of the most important creative collaborations in 20th century cinema between Kieslowski, scriptwriter Krzysztof Piesiewicz and composer Zbigniew Preisner. Thanks to their close working relationship, music for the Three Colors Trilogy achieves both a focal narrative and philosophical function. At times Preisner's music advances the narrative independently of the film's other codes; at other times it creates a metaphorical space into which the audience is invited in order to read for deeper messages. As the first major scholarly treatment of Preisner's music, Nicholas Reyland's Zbigniew Preisner's Three Colors Trilogy: A Film Score Guide fills an important void in film score scholarship. In this guide, Reyland analyzes the historical context of the film scores, the life of the composer, the hermeneutic and narrative role of the music within the film, and the musical scoring techniques used for the trilogy. This volume also draws on an interplay of established classic approaches to analyzing film music and more recent approaches in the exploration of its themes and readings. In addition, the composer's willingness to be interviewed by Reyland enhances the musicological scholarship of this book, giving the reader privileged access into the process of scoring a significant contribution to both film studies and musicological literature. This book celebrates one of the great cinematic achievements of the last few decades.
