this book brings together feminist academics and lawyers to present an impressive collection of alternative judgments in a series of australian legal cases by re imagining original legal decisions through a feminist lens the collection explores the possibilities limits and implications of feminist approaches to legal decision making each case is accompanied by a brief commentary that places it in legal and historical context and explains what the feminist rewriting does differently to the original case the cases not only cover topics of long standing interest to feminist scholars such as family law sexual offences and discrimination law but also areas which have had less attention including indigenous sovereignty constitutional law immigration taxation and environmental law the collection contributes a distinctly australian perspective to the growing international literature investigating the role of feminist legal theory in judicial decision making
