International Relations in Southeast Asia 2010 the central theme of this book is the utility of bilateralism and multilateralism in southeast asia international relations the intention was to examine a sufficient number of empirical cases in the southeast asian region since the mid 1970 s so as to establish a pattern of interactions informing a wider audience of interactions unique to the region through these case studies we seek to identify how this pattern of interaction compares with similar experiences elsewhere vis a vis the theoretical underpinnings of multilateralism and bilateralism consequently this book also examines the theoretical drift in international relations literature at the broadest level and the overall drift of southeast asian international relations between the nations themselves and the association of southeast asian nations asean p xv

Europe-Asia Relations 2008-05-15 europe asia relations analyses the increasingly complex and close knit interactions between these two regions by addressing both key thematic topics trade investment diplomacy and security and crucial bilateral relations with major actors such as china japan india as well as middle powers and regional organizations this volume provides a comprehensive overview of the interregional relationship by exploring the substance manner and dynamics of these interactions at the bilateral multilateral and interregional levels this volume examines how the various countries and peoples relate to each other and to the emerging multipolar and multilateral global order the europe asia relationship is often described as the weak link in the global power triangle with the united states yet by using a multinational and multidisciplinary group of authors this volume sheds new light on this increasingly important for survival in a shrunken international space and renders for readers a better understanding of the complexity of taiwan s relations with the rest of the world this book is essential reading for anyone interested in taiwan studies chinese politics cross strait relations and asian foreign policy

Interdependence, Interaction, and Close Relationships 2020-06-18 explores the latest developments in the processes underlying intimate relationships from an interdependence theory perspective

Asian Rivalries 2011-08-17 the most typical treatment of international relations is to conceive it as a battle between two antagonistic states volleying back and forth in reality interstate relations are often at least two level games in which decision makers operate not only in an international environment but also in a competitive domestic context given that interstate rivalries are responsible for a disproportionate share of discord in world politics this book sets out to explain just how these two level rivalries really work by reference to specific cases specialists on asian rivalries examine three related questions what is the mix of internal domestic politics and external interstate politics stimuli in the dynamics of their rivalries in what types of circumstances do domestic politics become the predominant influence on rivalry dynamics when domestic politics become predominant is their effect more likely to lead to the escalation or de escalation of rivalry hostility by pulling together the threads laid out by each contributor the editors create a grounded theory for interstate rivalries that breaks new ground in international relations theory

Asian Culture, Diplomacy and Foreign Relations, Volume II 2022-01-31 these two books offer readers a fresh perspective to re examine and reevaluate the so called china threat and the non western way of conducting foreign relations exercised by asian countries due to the lasting impact of their traditional cultures on their diplomacy

Debating Collaboration and Complicity in War Crimes Trials in Asia, 1945-1956 2017-08-14 this innovative volume examines the nexus between war crimes trials and the pursuit of collaborators in post war asia global standards of behaviour in time of war underpinned the prosecution of japanese military personnel in allied courts in asia and the pacific japan s contradictory roles in the second world war as brutal oppressor of conquered regions in asia and as liberator of asia from both western colonialism and stultifying tradition set the stage for a tangled legal and political debate just where did colonized and oppressed peoples owe their loyalties in time of war and where did the balance of responsibility lie between individuals and nations but global standards jostled uneasily with the pluralism of the western colonial order in asia where legal rights depended on race and nationality in the end these limits led to profound dissatisfaction with the trials process despite its vast scale and ambitious intentions which has implications until today

Race and Racism in Modern East Asia 2015-04-21 a sequel to the groundbreaking volume race and racism in modern east asia western and eastern constructions the present volume examines in depth interactions between western racial constructions of east asians and local constructions of race and their outcomes in modern times focusing on china japan and the two koreas it also analyzes the close ties between race racism and nationalism as well as the links race has had with gender and lineage in the region written by some of the field s leading authorities this insightful and engaging 23 chapter volume offers a sweeping overview and analysis of racial constructions and racism in modern and contemporary east asia that is unsurpassed in previous scholarship
