a biography of the race car driver who at the age of twenty four was the youngest ever to win the winston cup title a revelatory look inside the world s most dangerous terrorist group initially dismissed by us president barack obama along with other fledgling terrorist groups as a jayvee squad compared to al qaeda the islamic state of iraq and syria isis has shocked the world by conquering massive territories in both countries and promising to create a vast new muslim caliphate that observes the strict dictates of sharia law in isis inside the army of terror american journalist michael weiss and syrian analyst hassan hassan explain how these violent extremists evolved from a nearly defeated iraqi insurgent group into a jihadi army of international volunteers who behead western hostages in slickly produced videos and have conquered territory equal to the size of great britain beginning with the early days of abu musab al zarqawi the founder of isis s first incarnation as al qaeda in iraq weiss and hassan explain who the key players are from their elusive leader abu bakr al baghdadi to the former saddam baathists in their ranks where they come from how the movement has attracted both local and global support and where their financing comes from political and military maneuvering by the united states iraq iran and syria have all fueled isis s astonishing and explosive expansion drawing on original interviews with former us military officials and current isis fighters the authors also reveal the internecine struggles within the movement itself as well as isis s bloody hatred of shiite muslims which is generating another sectarian war in the region just like the one the us thought it had stopped in 2011 in iraq past is prologue and america s legacy in the middle east is sowing a new generation of terror for over a century the federal government has constructed water resource projects for a variety of purposes including flood control navigation power generation and irrigation while most municipal and industrial water supplies have been built by non federal entities most of the large federal water supply projects in the west including hoover and grand coulee dams were constructed by the bureau of reclamation department of the interior to provide water for irrigation growing populations and changing values have increased demands on water supplies and river systems resulting in water use and management conflicts throughout the country particularly in the west where the population is expected to increase 30 in the next 20 25 years in many western states agricultural needs are often in direct conflict with urban needs as well as with water demand for threatened and endangered species recreation and scenic enjoyment debate over western water resources revolves around the issue of how best to plan for and manage the use of this renewable yet sometimes scarce and increasingly sought after resource some observers advocate enhancing water supplies for example by building new storage or diversion projects expanding old ones or funding water reclamation and reuse facilities others emphasise the need to manage existing supplies more efficiently through conservation revision of policies that encourage inefficient use of water and establishment of market mechanisms to allocate water recent proposals to expand the upper mississippi river illinois waterway umr iww a major transportation route for products moving to and from illinois iowa minnesota missouri and wisconsin have met with significant controversy some of this controversy centres on the cumulative environmental effects of the current navigation system and the proposed expansion the upper mississippi river system umrs which includes the navigation channel and surrounding floodplain supports an unusually large number of species for a temperate river the umr iww navigation system alters umrs habitat and contributes to a decline in the abundance of some species for example locks dams and other channel structures inhibit the movement of fish between and within river segments fill side channels backwaters and wetlands with sediment and suppress plant growth by reducing water clarity in this in depth analysis peter muir argues that gordon matta clark s conical intersect 1975 is emblematic of henri lefebvre s understanding of art s function in relation to urban space by engaging with lefebvre s theory in conjunction with the perspectives of other writers such as michel de certeau jacques derrida and george bataille the book elicits a story that presents the artwork s significance origins and legacies conical intersect is a multi media artwork which involves the intersections of architecture sculpture film and photography as well as being a three dimensional model that reflects aspects of urban art and architectural theory along with a number of cultural and historiographic discourses which are still present and active this book navigates these many complex narratives by using the central hole of conical intersect as its focal point this apparently vacuous circle around which the events documents and other historical or theoretical references surrounding matta clark s project are perpetually in present and justify their findings epistemology demonstrates that evidence is something that all anthropologists must possess shows how the collection of evidence in the field is still without doubt one of the main ingredients of what bronislaw malinowski once referred to as the ethnographer's magic reveals how the concept of evidence has received little sustained attention in print especially when compared to related concepts such as fieldwork truth facts and knowledge argued from a variety of theoretical perspectives and a rarity in its ability to orchestrate some many different and vibrant paradigms and points of view the literature on cytokine genetics is vast so vast that it is now practically beyond the time or logistical constraints of most scientists to successfully keep pace with it a compilation of the latest research cytokine gene polymorphisms in multifactorial conditions brings together reviews and structures up to date information on polymorphisms in cytokine genes it discusses haplotype structures and linkage disequilibrium patterns in cytokine gene loci functional biological effects of polymorphisms and genetic associations with disease the book documents polymorphisms in the most important cytokine genes or gene clusters and their biological and genetic effects in a multitude of distinct multifactorial conditions unique to this book are the disease centered chapters examining the role of cytokine gene polymorphisms in a multitude of multifactorial conditions the conditions include autoimmune or chronic inflammatory diseases cardiovascular disease infectious diseases and longevity this section is a real tour de force grant gallagher and michael f seldin march 2006 broadening the understanding of the effect of genetic variations on human immune responses the organization scope and content of this book make it a valuable and easily accessible resource the book integrates genetic immunological and clinical information and will serve as a reference for novice and expert geneticists immunologists cell biologists and clinicians it is a must for everyone involved in or planning cytokine genetics or immunogenetics studies folate pathways are essential in metabolism and macromolecule synthesis antifolate drugs that are largely transported via a high capacity folate transporter i e the reduced folate carrier and inhibit folate dependent enzymes include the dihydrofolate reductase inhibitor methotrexate and the thymidylate synthase inhibitors raltitrexed and pemetrexed major advances in folate research made within the last decade include i the approval of pemetrexed for the treatment of lung cancer and mesothelioma and ii the demonstration that cell membrane anchored folate receptors fr are exploitable for cancer and inflammatory disease management frs are not widely distributed in normal tissues except on some luminal surfaces however they are accessible to systemically administered agents when expressed on many cancers as well as on activated macrophages involved in various inflammatory diseases high affinity folate radioisotope conjugates have been developed for imaging pathogenic fr positive diseases including cancer since the fr transports folates via a low capacity but high affinity endocytic pathway a variety of fr targeted antifolate drugs and folate conjugates bearing a wide range of payloads including cytotoxic drugs are currently being developed which exploit this property the fr is also being utilized in immunotherapy approaches for the treatment of overexpressing cancers examining major terrorist acts and campaigns undertaken in the decade following september 11 2001 internationally recognized scholars study the involvement of global terrorist leaders and organizations in these incidents and the planning organization execution recruitment and training that went into them their work captures the changing character of al qaeda and its affiliates since the invasions of afghanistan and iraq and the sophisticated elements that despite the west's best counterterrorism efforts continue to exert substantial direction over jihadist terrorist operations through case studies of terrorist acts and offensives occurring both in and outside the west the volume's contributors investigate al qaeda and other related entities as they adapted to the strategies of operation enduring freedom and subsequent u s led global counterterrorism programs they explore whether osama bin laden was indeed reduced to a mere figurehead before his death or continued to influence al qaeda's global activities did al qaeda become a loose collection of individuals and ideas following its expulsion from afghanistan or was it reborn as a transnational terrorist structure powered by a well articulated ideology what is the preeminent terrorist threat we face today and what will it look like in the future this anthology pinpoints the critical patterns and strategies that will inform counterterrorism in the coming decades first published in 2012 routledge is an imprint of taylor francis an informa company the age wave of retiring
