internet research spans many disciplines from the computer or information sciences through engineering and to social sciences humanities and the arts almost all of our disciplines have made contributions to internet research whether in the effort to understand the effect of the internet on their area of study or to investigate the social and political changes related to the internet or to design and develop software and hardware for the network the possibility and extent of contributions of internet research vary across disciplines as do the purposes methods and outcomes even the epistemological underpinnings differ widely the internet then does not have a discipline of study for itself it is a field for research baym 2005 an open environment that simultaneously supports many approaches and techniques not otherwise commensurable with each other there are of course some inhibitions that limit explorations in this field research ethics disciplinary conventions local and national norms customs laws borders and so on yet these limits on the internet as a field for research have not prevented the rapid expansion and exploration of the internet after nearly two decades of research and scholarship the limits are a positive contribution providing bases for discussion and interrogation of the contexts of our research making internet research better for all these limits challenges that constrain the theoretically limitless space for internet research create boundaries that give definition to the field and provide us with a particular topography that enables research and investigation
