iran today is still struggling with the legacy of its own islamic revolution and is deeply divided between the moderates who enjoy broad public support and the conservatives who control the levers of power the mixed policies that result are reflected in iran s ambivalent military posture in recent years iran has only conducted a limited build up of its armed forces and has cut defense spending and arms imports on the other hand iran has developed a carefully focused program that threatens shipping in the lower gulf and the world s oil exports it has strengthened its capability for unconventional warfare and continues to be a significant proliferator setting up indigenous military industries and developing a greater ability to import weapons in this authoritative analysis of interest to middle eastern specialists and military affairs experts alike anthony cordesman concludes that the continuation of iran s current defensive security posture depends as much on these economic factors as on the outcomes of domestic political rivalries iran may eventually limit any military expansion to a necessary defensive strength and set strategic goals for itself that are compatible with the legitimate interests of other nations or it may choose a more aggressive course regardless of the ultimate outcome argues cordesman it does no good to either demonize or excuse iranian policies instead the united states and other nations with interests in the middle east and central asia need to deal realistically with iran as a reemerging regional power noted middle east military expert anthony h cordesman details the complex trends that come into play in determining the military balance in a region that has become so critical to world peace this ready resource provides a wealth of information on military expenditures and major arms systems as well as qualitative trends by country and by zone however as cordesman stresses because the greater middle east is more a matter of rhetoric than military reality mere data summarizing trends in 23 different countries is no substitute for a substantive explanation using tables graphs and charts this study explores every aspect of the regional military balance with attention to sub regional balances internal civil conflicts and low level border tensions the middle east is certainly one of the most militarized areas in the world and changes in technology access to weapons of mass destruction and political instability contribute to a situation that has long been in constant flux some of the regional flashpoints covered in this study include the maghreb north africa the arab israeli conflict dominated by israel versus syria and the gulf divided into those states that view iran as the primary threat and those who lived in fear of iraq internal conflicts such as those in mauritania algeria libya egypt sudan bahrain saudi arabia iraq and yemen increasingly dominate regional tensions in addition border conflicts within the region and with neighboring countries could further aggravate the delicate balance
