Reports of the Treasurer ... 1882 globalization is transforming the world at an accelerated pace integration of the world continues widening and intensifying international linkages in economic political and social relations liberalization of trade and finance lubricated by revolutionary changes in information technology has resulted in significant economic growth at the global level on the other hand the process of globalization is changing the nature of production relations threatening the traditional roles of the nation state and carrying with it far reaching implications for sustainable growth development and the environment although both developed and developing countries are actively participating in this saga of globalization nearly ninety countries as the united nations human development report 1996 indicates are worse off economically than they were ten years ago leading to global polarization between haves and have nots the report further indicates that the gap between the per capita incomes of the industrialized world and the developing countries far from narrowing has more than tripled during the last thirty years further a majority of the countries benefitting from this globalization drive have seen a rise in inequality and poverty this failure of market driven globalization to reward the benefits equitably led the united nations to proclaim 1996 as the international year for the eradication of poverty and the decade of 1997 2006 as the international decade for the eradication of poverty and to promote people centered sustainable development

Information Relative to the Appointment and Admission of Cadets to the United States Military Academy, West Point, N.Y.

1939 with the onset of a more conservative political climate in the 1980s social and especially labour history saw a decline in the popularity that they had enjoyed throughout the 1960s and 1970s this led to much debate on its future and function within the historical discipline as a whole some critics declared it dead altogether others have proposed a change of direction and a more or less exclusive focus on images and texts the most constructive proposals have suggested that labour history in the past concentrated too much on class and that other identities of working people should be taken into account to a larger extent than they had been previously such as gender religion and ethnicity although class as a social category is still as valid as it has been before the questions now to be asked are to what extent non class identities shape working people's lives and mentalities and how these are linked with the class system in this volume some of the leading european historians of labour and the working classes address these questions two non european scholars comment on their findings from an indian resp american point of view the volume is rounded off by a most useful bibliography of recent studies in european labour history class gender religion and ethnicity
