women between submission and freedom is a cultural historical and spiritual inquiry into the nature of contemporary eastern and western society which highlights the gender inequality plaguing contemporary arabian culture the author has witnessed first hand the role of cultural influences in her religion and society her analysis begins with personal stories and everyday instances of misogynistic behavior suffered by herself and those around her the author delivers an important message about the deception and brainwashing of women in these communities she bears witness to a culture which has taught women to be submissive and accept the fact that their societal value only exists in relation and deference to men whether through direct or indirect pressure such communities reduce the innate human value of women at the same time as the patriarchal system reduces them to virtual slavery this systematic denigration includes not only the misogynistic mentality but the historical suppression of women s ideas and creations the author explores the portrayal of women in a range of religions that employ gender based social intimidation under the cloak of religion the interpretation of these verses is based on the societal values and politics of those who lead and protect the patriarchal system to them religion is not an ethos but a weapon with contributions from activists artists and scholars afro asia is a groundbreaking collection of writing on the historical alliances cultural connections and shared political strategies linking african americans and asian different worlds jason is a computing professional of caribbean heritage born and raised in london jason is struggling to come to terms with his unwitting preference for white women along with the societal and cultural implications in a world increasingly divided by race jason stumbles across alice a good natured but slightly naive nurse who has moved to the city from the countryside the pair begin their journey amid a backdrop of growing racial tension in the city tension triggered by an act of police brutality that is shrouded in governmental conspiracy as the love struck couple spend more time together the complexities of interracial dating present challenging hurdles to overcome jason is called to demonstrate his commitment to his people by a pro black activist group as revelations of alice s supposed infidelity and subterfuge come to light alice is compelled to interrogate what it truly means to be in an interracial relationship in the 21st century a time where colour blindness is no longer a strategy in addition to their individual journeys of reflection examination and discovery they have to manage pressure from friends family and wider society as they determine if what they have is worth fighting for will they make it victorian england a jesuit priest writes of wrestling with god at night limbs entangled an anglican sister begs jesus her divine lover to end her aching anticipation of their union a clergyman exhorts nuns to study the example of medieval women who suffered on the rack in order to become brides of christ alongside the march of nineteenth century progress ran a seemingly paradoxical fascination with a dark erotically suggestive side of religious devotion the figuration of the christian god as a heavenly bridegroom who doles out punishment to his bride the individual soul through innovative case studies of victorian religious poetry amanda paxton reveals that while the punitive model proved a convenient rhetorical tool with which to deflate burgeoning nineteenth century campaigns for women s rights and challenges to church authority in the hands of several writers it also provided a means of resisting patriarchal institutions and interrogating distinctions between science and religion willful submission is the first full length volume to examine the interplay of sex suffering and religion as a touchstone in victorian culture and verse this is a story about a marriage breakdown and the difficulties facing primarily women in protecting themselves and in collecting support payments under the ontario justice system this is a story about justice delayed justice denied and how the justice system failed to level the playing field every day a woman is demoralized in not being able to collect on support orders every day in canada a woman is subjected to ongoing abuse with her partner with minimal assistance through the legal system this story is typical of a woman s plight going through a legal system where the parties have lost faith and face the dilemma of giving up or taking the law into their own hands from usa today best selling authors w winters and amelia sexual pleasure from submission to cruel discipline while that predilection was noted as early as the sixteenth century masochism was not codified as a concept until 1890 according to john k noyes its invention reflected a crisis in the liberal understanding of subjectivity and sexuality which continues to inform discussions of masochism today in essence it remains a political concept viennese physician richard von krafft ebing coined the term masochism based on the work of leopold von sacher masoch noyes analyzes the social and political problems that inspired the concept suggesting for example that the triumphant expansion of european colonialism was in part animated by an ambivalence in masculine sexuality noyes documents the evolution of the concept of masochism with scenes in literature from john cleland s fanny hill through sacher masoch s venus in furs and pauline reage s story of 0 analysis of freud s vastly influential rereading of masochism precedes an exploration of the work of his successors including wilhem reich theodor reik helene deutsch and karen horney noyes suggests that the thematics of feminine masochism emerged only gradually from an exclusively male concept articles on the socio cultural identity of women in west bengal india b s he loves the sweet life greg hutchins is reluctantly adulting these days he s settled in his job recently bought his they ve both found something much more meaningful a twist they never saw coming when the case becomes dangerous both of their futures are on the line and when the bullets start flying they will have to learn to trust in each other if they hope to survive studie over de relatie tussen de kerk en de slavenmaatschappij shojo manga are romance comics for teenage girls characterized by a very dense visual style featuring flowery backgrounds and big eyed androgynous boys and girls it is an extremely popular and prominent genre in japan why is this genre so appealing where did it come from why do so many of the stories feature androgynous characters and homosexual romance passionate friendship answers these questions by reviewing japanese girls print culture from its origins in 1920s and 1930s girls literary magazines to the 1970s revolution shojo manga when young women artists took over the genre it looks at the narrative and aesthetic features of girls literature and illustration across the twentieth century both pre and postwar and discusses how these texts addressed and formed a reading community of girls even as they were informed by competing political and social ideologies the author traces the development of girls culture in pre world war ii magazines and links it to postwar teenage girls comics and popular culture within this culture as private and cloistered as the schools most readers attended a discourse of girlhood arose that avoided heterosexual romance in favor of s relationships passionate friendships between girls this preference for homogeneity is echoed in the postwar genre of boys love manga written for girls both prewar s relationships and postwar boys love stories gave girls a protected space to develop and explore their identities and sexuality apart from the pressures of a patriarchal society shojo manga offered to a reading community of girls a place to share the difficulties of adolescence as well as an alternative to the image of girls purveyed by the media to boys and men passionate friendship s close literary and visual analysis of modern japanese girls culture will appeal to a wide range of readers including scholars and students of japanese studies gender studies and popular culture the institution of the family is by far the most important of all the societal networks in which the lives of men women and children are involved nowhere is this more true than in the less developed countries of asia originally published in 1979 the family in asia aimed to provide a series of comprehensive survey chapters which described traditional family patterns in a selection of asian countries at different stages of economic development these range from a rapidly expanding and highly developed industrial nation japan through modernising and developing countries india pakistan iran china south korea and the philippines to more underdeveloped countries such as thailand and afghanistan each chapter is written by a senior country specialist and covers an integrated series of topics within a uniform framework in order to facilitate inter country comparisons valuable description and statistical material is provided on the literature and on the effects of industrialisation urbanisation and modernisation but perhaps more important is a theoretical framework and the editors review of some basic characteristics of social modernisation these include the degree of equalitarian family relations and sexual divisions in society emphasis on individualism and independence the differentiation and specialised functioning of social institutions urban life birth control and family planning social mobility marital disruption and divorce neglect and care of the elderly formal education for children and government intervention and influence on family activities read in its historical context this title will interest specialists in development and asian studies in demography sociology and in anthropology students in particular will value the tight analytical framework in which the book has been written this book examines women s activism in the early years of independent indonesia when new attitudes to gender nationalism citizenship and democratization were forming it questions the meaning of democratization for women and their relationship to national sovereignty within the new indonesian state and discusses women s organizations and their activities women s social and economic roles and the different cultural regional and ethnic attitudes towards women while showing the failure of political change to fully address women s gender interests and needs the author argues that both the role of nationalism in defining gender identity and the role of gender in defining national identity need equal recognition books can be a dangerous business when blue moon books the bay area bookstore where angel robinson has worked since college is squeezed out of business angel is forced to find a new job she lucks into a position as the assistant to the world renowned literary agent lucy fiamma angel soon learns that working for lucy is no picnic the agent has a blockbuster ego to match her blockbuster success and angel must juggle both her boss s prima donna demands and the strange quirks of her authors but angel soon becomes indispensable to the agency and develops a keen understanding of big projects and the writers who create them what she doesn t realize is just how far one of them will go to get published one day a chapter from a mysterious manuscript by an anonymous author arrives at the office set in a new york literary agency the novel titled blind submission centers on the ambitious assistant to a successful literary agent angel is pulled in by the plot but her initial curiosity soon turns to panic as the story unfolds with chapters e mailed in one by one it becomes clear that the mystery author is writing the story of angel s own life including secrets she thought were deeply hidden someone is watching her even plotting against her could it be her backstabbing coworker her jealous boyfriend or her seductive new client when the novel s plot turns to murder angel knows that if she doesn t discover the author s identity before the final chapter is written more than just her career will be cut short deryn watson and david tinsley the topic of the conference integrating infonnation technology into education is both broad and multi facetted in order to help focus the papers and discussion we identified 7 themes current developments in society and education influencing integration teachers their roles and concerns learners their expectations of and behaviour in an integrated environment developments and concerns in the curriculum successes and failures in existing practice organisation and management of integrated environments identification of social and political influences each author was invited to focus on one theme and these remained strands throughout as can be seen from the short papers and focus group reports the first and most significant concern therefore was to be clear about our notions of integration what do we mean and how is this relevant our keynote paper from cornu clearly marked out this debate by examining the notion of integration and alerting us to the fact that as long as the use of it is still added to the curriculum then integration has not yet begun
