bangladesh's ambition is to build on its very solid growth and poverty reduction achievements and accelerate growth to become a middle income country by 2021 and share prosperity more widely amongst its citizens this includes one of its greatest development challenges to provide gainful employment to the over 2 million people that will join the labor force each year over the next decade moreover only 54.1 million of its 94 million working age people are employed bangladesh needs to use its labor endowment even more intensively to increase growth and in turn to absorb the incoming labor the diagnostic trade integration study identifies the following actions centered around four pillars to sustain and accelerate export growth 1 breaking into new markets through a better trade logistics to reduce delivery lags as world markets become more competitive and newer products demand shorter lead times to generate new sources of competitiveness and thereby enable market diversification and b better exploitation of regional trading opportunities in nearby growing and dynamic markets especially east and south asia 2 breaking into new products through a more neutral and rational trade policy and taxation and bonded warehouse schemes b concerted efforts to spur domestic investment and attract foreign direct investment to contribute to export promotion and diversification including by easing the energy and land constraints and c strategic development and promotion of services trade 3 improving worker and consumer welfare by a improving skills and literacy b implementing labor and work safety guidelines and c making safety nets more effective in dealing with trade shocks and 4 building a supportive environment including a sustaining sound macroeconomic fundamentals and b strengthening the institutional capacity for strategic policy making aimed at the objective of international competitiveness to help bring focus and coherence to the government's reform efforts this palgrave pivot looks through social economic institutional and environmental lenses to examine sustainable development in india and bangladesh the effects of climate change make this comparative study particularly pertinent as rising sea levels and severe weather events will lead to displacement and migration exacerbating existing issues india and bangladesh share similar cultural and socioeconomic backgrounds and as a result face similar challenges rapid population growth widespread poverty food insecurity and gender inequality developing a sustainable future will require policymakers to consider all of these elements in their efforts to create human security this book discusses the energy issues facing bangladesh specifically the lack of access to electricity that impedes overall development in depth chapters examine critical energy problems and provide possible solutions including energy conversion and energy efficiency and the utilization of energy reform strategies for further development of the energy sector this book is useful to students and practitioners seeking a clearer understanding of contemporary energy issues energy markets and their sustainable development including modern technologies for energy conversion from waste and strategies for efficiency it presents thought provoking ideas and strategies to help bangladesh achieve sustainable development goals sdgs and transition to an upper middle income country by 2021 through the utilization of proper energy policies this book examines the key sustainable development goals sgds relating to environmental sustainability and provides a cutting edge assessment of current progress with the view of achieving these goals by 2030 within south asia the book pays particular attention to bangladesh as a country representative of emerging economies which are struggling to meet their goals drawing on the three pillars of sustainability the volume addresses the following goals clean water and sanitation affordable and clean energy responsible consumption and production climate action life below water and life on land goals 6 7 12 13 14 and 15 the book examines where progress has been made and why some key targets have not been achieved or will be difficult to achieve the chapters focus on environmental sustainability in different sectors such as agriculture renewable energy fisheries and aquaculture and natural resource management the aim of this volume is to highlight key lessons and recommendations on how research in the various sectors can feed into the pathway of achievement of the sgds this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainable development and climate change as well as practitioners and policymakers involved in sustainable development and disaster management this book the first historical sociology of its kind concerning bangladesh examines the country's what went wrong syndrome during the first fifty years of its existence 1971-2021 the work is an exception to the traditional studies on modern and contemporary bangladesh the study is also a post history of united pakistan busting several myths it sheds light on many known and unknown facts about the history politics society and culture of the country besides being a twice born country liberated twice from the british in 1947 and from west pakistanis in 1971 it is also an artificial entity suffering from acute crises of culture development governance and identity hashmi attributes the culture and identity crises to the demographic byproducts of bad governance in addition to being overpopulated bangladesh is also resource poor and has one of the most unskilled populations largely lumpen elements and peasants according to marx these people represent the unchanging remnants of the past the second round of independence empowered these lumpen classes who suffer from an identity crisis and never learn the art of governance the proliferation of pseudo history about liberation has further divided the polity between the two warring tribes who only glorify their respective idols mujib and zia pre political and pre capitalist peasants lumpen elements lack of mutual trust and respect have further plagued bangladesh turning it into one of the least governable corrupt and inefficient countries it is essential to replace the pre capitalist order of the country run by multiple lumpen classes with capitalist and inclusive institutions this volume analyses bangladesh's human nature environment relationships in terms of development victimhood

environmental injustices and resistance of the marginalized it demonstrates how the popular gdp based economic growth model helps governments undertake development projects threatening the environment and livelihood of the poor while benefiting the affluent it represents the extant environmentalism in the literary works in bangla and tales of pollution depletion and human nature environment symbiosis that shows ways to resist victimhood against current environmental challenges and other environmental issues this volume presents the epitome of how politics biodiversity and technology meet consolidation of recent advances in our understanding of the interaction of diarrhea and malnutrition is indicated and timely it is now widely recognized that diarrhea is a major cause of morbidity and mortality among children of poor countries due to recent advances in laboratory and field diagnostic techniques many of the previously unrecognized etiologic agents responsible for diarrhea have been identified thereby providing new scientific knowledge for rational control strategies increasingly these advances suggest that the morbidity burden of diarrhea may be of equal if not greater public health consequence than mortality diarrhea only rarely causes disease severe enough to require institutionalized medical care the vast majority of diseases are of mild or moderate severity and because of high prevalence diarrhea imposes an enormous morbidity burden and exerts a significant negative impact on child growth and development moreover the effects of successive episodes of diarrhea are likely to be cumulative in contrast to several other childhood infections the treatment of the diarrheal diseases is feasible because it uses simple effective and low cost medical technologies within the context of these developments there has been a major resurgence of international interest in and commitment to the control of the diarrheal diseases the world health organization recently has launched a global program for the control of diarrhea and simulta neously an independent international research center on diarrhea has been established in bangladesh

Bangladesh Priorities

Bangladesh's ambition is to build on its very solid growth and poverty reduction achievements and accelerate growth to become a middle income country by 2021 and share prosperity more widely amongst its citizens. This includes one of its greatest development challenges to provide gainful employment to the over 2 million people that will join the labor force each year over the next decade. Moreover, only 54.1 million of its 94 million working age people are employed. Bangladesh needs to use its labor endowment even more intensively to increase growth and in turn to absorb the incoming labor. The Diagnostic Trade Integration Study identifies the following actions centered around four pillars to sustain and accelerate export growth:

1. Breaking into new markets through a better trade logistics to reduce delivery lags as world markets become more competitive and newer products demand shorter lead times to generate new sources of competitiveness and thereby enable market diversification and better exploitation of regional trading opportunities in nearby growing and dynamic markets especially East and South Asia.
2. Breaking into new products through a more neutral and rational trade policy and taxation and bonded warehouse schemes.
3. Concerted efforts to spur domestic investment and attract foreign direct investment to contribute to export promotion and diversification including by easing the energy and land constraints and strategic development and promotion of services trade.
4. Improving worker and consumer welfare by:
 - a. Improving skills and literacy.
 - b. Implementing labor and work safety guidelines.
 - c. Making safety nets more effective in dealing with trade shocks.

Building a supportive environment including a sustaining sound macroeconomic fundamentals and strengthening the institutional capacity for strategic policy making aimed at the objective of international competitiveness to help bring focus and coherence to the government's reform efforts.

Resilience in Action

This Palgrave Pivot looks through social, economic, institutional, and environmental lenses to examine sustainable development in India and Bangladesh. The effects of climate change make this comparative study particularly pertinent as rising sea levels and severe weather events will lead to displacement and migration, exacerbating existing issues. India and Bangladesh share similar cultural and socioeconomic backgrounds and as a result face similar challenges: rapid population growth, widespread poverty, food insecurity, and gender inequality. Developing a sustainable future will require policymakers to consider all of these elements in their efforts to create human security.

The Politics of Privatisation in Bangladesh

This book examines the key sustainable development goals (SDGs) relating to environmental sustainability and provides a cutting edge assessment of current progress with the view of achieving these goals by 2030 within South Asia. The book pays particular attention to Bangladesh as a country representative of emerging economies which are struggling to meet their goals. Drawing on the three pillars of sustainability, the volume addresses the following goals: clean water and sanitation, affordable and clean energy, responsible consumption and production, climate action, life below water, and life on land (goals 6, 7, 12, 13, 14, and 15). The book examines where progress has been made and why some key targets have not been achieved or will be difficult to achieve. The chapters focus on environmental sustainability in different sectors such as agriculture, renewable energy, fisheries, and aquaculture, and natural resource management. The aim of this volume is to highlight key lessons and recommendations on how research in the various sectors can feed into the pathway of meeting the SDGs highlighted in this book. The analysis derived from Bangladesh can be used as a reference point for other developing nations in Asia and globally with a view to guiding policy for the achievement of the SDGs. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainable development and climate change as well as practitioners and policymakers involved in sustainable development and disaster management.

there are several reasons why a consolidation of recent advances in our understanding of the interaction of diarrhea and malnutrition is indicated and timely it is now widely recognized that diarrhea is a major cause of morbidity and mortality among children of poor countries due to recent advances in laboratory and field diagnostic techniques many of the previously unrecognized etiologic agents responsible for diarrhea have been identified thereby providing new scientific knowledge for rational control strategies increasingly these advances suggest that the morbidity burden of diarrhea may be of equal if not greater public health consequence than mortality diarrhea only rarely causes disease severe enough to require institutionalized medical care the vast majority of diseases are of mild or moderate severity and because of high prevalence diarrhea imposes an enormous morbidity burden and exerts a significant negative impact on child growth and development moreover the effects of successive episodes of diarrhea are likely to be cumulative in contrast to several other childhood infections the treatment of the diarrheal diseases is feasible because it uses simple effective and low cost medical technologies within the context of these developments there has been a major resurgence of international interest in and commitment to the control of the diarrheal diseases the world health organization recently has launched a global program for the control of diarrhea and simultaneously an independent international research center on diarrhea has been established in bangladesh
