the book is basically a thematic study of R.K. Narayan's novels and a reference to his short stories has been made only in passing. The major themes that emerge from Narayan's novels are love and marriage or man-woman relationship, family relationships, under-scoring the father-son relationship, socio-cultural and political scene of the country during the last fifty years, and the Hindu ethos highlighting renunciations as an ideal of the Hindu way of life for the first time. The major themes of Narayan's novels have been clearly worked out and the identity of Malgudi has been convincingly established by the author.

Indian Literature in English

This is the fourth and final volume in the pioneering series on perspectives on major forms of Indian English literature, edited by Professor M.K. Naik. Following the pattern of the earlier three volumes, this collection also includes two types of essays: those evaluating the entire corpus of major fictionists and schools, and those attempting intensive textual analyses of outstanding novels like Untouchable, The Guide, The Serpent and the Rope, and Midnight's Children. The final essay on 'The Achievement of Indian Fiction in English' is an attempt to survey the entire field and evaluate the total achievement in this genre. A number of collections of critical essays on Indian fiction in English have appeared during recent years, but perhaps none of them has the range and depth of this volume. The contributors include distinguished scholars such as K.R. Srinivasa Iyengar, V.A. Shahane, D.V.K. Raghavacharyulu, Premanandakumar, and the editor M.K. Naik himself. The carefully selective bibliography appended to the volume has further enhanced its value as a comprehensive collection of incisive critical studies covering the entire range of Indian fiction in English, and this series, which is now complete, easily constitutes a significant landmark in the ongoing scrutiny of Indian English literature.
