my autobiography a fragment a classical book has been considered important throughout the human history and so that this work is never forgotten we at alpha editions have made efforts in its preservation by republishing this book in a modern format for present and future generations this whole book has been reformatted retyped and designed these books are not made of scanned copies of their original work and hence the text is clear and readable born into a theatrical family chaplin s father died of drink while his mother unable to bear the poverty suffered from bouts of insanity chaplin embarked on a film making career which won him immeasurable success as well as intense controversy his extraordinary autobiography was first published in 1964 and was written almost entirely without reference to documentation simply as an astonishing feat of memory by a 75 year old man it is an incomparably vivid reconstruction of a poor london childhood the music hall and then his prodigious life in the movies the second volume of the autobiography of doris lessing winner of the nobel prize for literature my story an autobiography by mary astor prologue people have often said to me you haven t changed a bit they meant it as a compliment but i could hear it only as an accusation a statement of brutal fact and i have thought bitterly you are so right for i knew that if i had not changed i had not grown to be a perennial child an ethereal peter pan playing with pirates and indians throughout all eternity can be a lovely thing in the never never land of fantasy but it is an unhappy thing in life the child is born so that he may become a man it is his destiny to grow to learn to understand to assume responsibilities growth can be painful i know but i have found that a stunted and retarded growth can be a pain beyond belief my father often used to rebuke me by saying you are almost nine years old and then ten and then eleven and twelve and you haven t learned a thing well here i was fifty years old and i still hadn t learned a thing my father s rebuke had always seemed to imply a promise that years the very accumulation of years would bring experience and understanding so at whatever age i was i wished i were older at seventeen i longed to be twenty five at twenty i wanted to be a woman of the world of thirty at thirty i read that the french thought a woman did not reach a full maturity of beauty and attractiveness until she was forty finally at forty five i decided that the whole thing was a pack of lies where was the serenity that the years were to bring where was the cooling of passion s blood i realized that i who leaned on so many people and things had been leaning even on the abstraction of time i was still refusing to grow up to face the oppressive fact that i should long since have become a responsible mature adult i continued to seek people and things i could lean on to escape the need for making my own decisions and assuming responsibility for my own acts one event above all others should have brought me to a full realization of my responsibility and dignity as an individual but even in that i failed my conversion to the catholic church was almost purely emotional i felt instinctively that i had finally found something substantial to lean on never realizing that it is the church above all else that demands a stern and courageous individuality so my conversion did not turn out to be the conventional conversion story where the sinner is baptized and lives happily ever after i leaned and i fell it is true the church would repeatedly pick me up and dust me off after each fall she would dry my tears and heal my wounds and comfort me then she would gently say go walk alone with god but i couldn't walk alone so i windham press is committed to bringing the lost cultural heritage of ages past into the 21st century through high quality reproductions of original classic printed works at affordable prices this book has been carefully crafted to utilize the original images of antique books rather than error prone ocr text this also preserves the work of the original typesetters of these classics unknown craftsmen who laid out the text often by hand of each and every page you will read their subtle art involving judgment and interaction with the text is in many ways superior and more human than the mechanical methods utilized today and gave each book a unique hand crafted feel in its text that he had woken me though and said im not going to hurt you go back to sleep my subconscious must have recognised the voice and trusted the person because i did go back to sleep thereafter i ensured the bedroom door was locked this and other instances make me realise how vulnerable i was to rape abuse or being murdered in the house where i lived i later learned that the neighbours would enter my house either by climbing in through the window or using the key which they had found this historic book may have numerous typos and missing text purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher not indexed not illustrated 1887 edition excerpt chapter xxi the derby day as i have said earlier in these reminiscences the shock that the first sight of a picture in the exhibition causes to its author can with difficulty be imagined by artists even who have not experienced the sensation the influence of the surrounding works the glare of frames and the unaccustomed light all combine to produce so complete a transformation as to create doubts that the black dirty inky thing that affronts you can be the clear bright effective production that was so admired by your friends and yourself before it left your painting room wilkie felt the full force of this for in speaking of his splendid chelsea pensioners reading the gazette announcing the battle of waterloo he says this is the only instance of one of my pictures which has not suffered terribly by the exhibition my birthday was a very painful example of the effect produced by its shirley brooks was a notable example of a man whose conversation and private correspondence were so sparkling and delightful as to throw his novels admirable as they are completely into the shade as an example i introduce in this place a letter written by brooks in the name of miss baynes the landlady of the granby hotel at harrogate it is needless to say that the paragraph alluded to was fictitious the early pictures were some of my first efforts presented to miss baynes many years ago and they now hang on the this book deals with the life of a pioneer neurosurgeon whose unconventional single minded pursuit led to the establishment of internationally recognised centres of excellence at a time when few such existed in the country

My Autobiography 1901

my story an autobiography by mary astor prologue people have often said to me you haven t changed a bit they meant it as a compliment but i could hear it only as an accusation a statement of brutal fact and i have thought bitterly you are so right for i knew that if i had not changed i had not grown to be a perennial child an ethereal peter pan playing with pirates and indians throughout all eternity can be a lovely thing in the never never land of fantasy but it is an unhappy thing in life the child is born so that he may become a man it is his destiny to grow to learn to understand to assume responsibilities growth can be painful i know but i have found that a stunted and retarded growth can be a pain beyond belief my father often used to rebuke me by saying you are almost nine years old and then ten and then eleven and twelve and you haven t learned a thing well here i was fifty years old and i still hadn t learned a thing my father s rebuke had always seemed to imply a promise that years the very accumulation of years would bring experience and understanding so at whatever age i was i wished i were older at seventeen i longed to be twenty five at twenty i wanted to be a woman of the world of thirty at thirty i read that the french thought a woman did not reach a full maturity of beauty and attractiveness until she was forty finally at forty five i decided that the whole thing was a pack of lies where was the serenity that the years were to bring where was the cooling of passion s blood i realized that i who leaned on so many people and things had been leaning even on the abstraction of time i was still refusing to grow up to face the oppressive fact that i should long since have become a responsible mature adult i continued to seek people and things i could lean on to escape the need for making my own decisions and assuming responsibility for my own acts one event above all others should have brought me to a full realization of my responsibility and dignity as an individual but even in that i failed my conversion to the catholic church was almost purely emotional i felt instinctively that i had finally found something substantial to lean on never realizing that it is the church above all else that demands a stern and courageous individuality so my conversion did not turn out to be the conventional conversion story where the sinner is baptized and lives happily ever after i leaned and i fell it is true the church would repeatedly pick me up and dust me off after each fall she would dry my tears and heal my wounds and comfort me then she would gently say go walk alone with god but i couldn t walk alone so i windham press is committed to bringing the lost cultural heritage of ages past into the 21st century through high

in early 2006 after a visit to canada to visit my sisters i came back to england alert confident and able to once again reclaim my independence i didnt know but apparently it was common knowledge that a key to my house had been found or at least that is what was claimed it had apparently been lost in the street i awoke one night i had not locked the bedroom door and there was a man standing in the room a candle in his hand he was standing about eight feet away just watching me i was terrified and realised i had to keep totally still he knew he had woken me though and said im not going to hurt you go back to sleep my subconscious must have recognised the voice and trusted the person because i did go back to sleep thereafter i ensured the bedroom door was locked this and other instances make me realise how vulnerable i was to rape abuse or being murdered in the house where i lived i later learned that the neighbours would enter my house either by climbing in through the window or using the key which they had found

j l moreno writes being a genius does not consist only of having ideas this is essential but is a far later phase of genius being a genius starts with a feeling of being in contact with the whole universe a feeling of totality being fed by it free of charge and feeding it gratefully in return in this book the presentation of his life vision and life s work moreno gives countless portals for the opening of contact with the whole universe to a feeling of totality this totality is what motivated him and has also motivated the editor for much of his life the direct felt experience of this totality is at the center of religious existential and spiritual traditions and in this book we have an uncloaked method for the same enlightenment process the totality and wholeness of life can be found in the enactment of moreno s method what can be greater than to really live this and to give it to others
