recordings and examination of historical documents and relevant scholarship Terri Brinegar argues that the development of the phonograph in the 1920s afforded preachers like Nix the opportunity to present traditional black vocal styles of the southern black church as modern black voices. These vocal styles also influenced musical styles. The moaning voice used by Nix and other ministers was a direct connection to the blues moan employed by many blues singers including Blind Willie Lemon and Ma Rainey. Both Reverend A. W. Nix and his brother W. M. Nix were an influence on the father of gospel music, Thomas A. Dorsey. The success of Nix's recorded sermons demonstrates the enduring values African Americans placed on traditional vocal practices.
