The Gold and the Blue, Volume Two 2001 this book constitutes the second volume of a three volume study of christian testimonies to divine suffering god s wounds hermeneutic of the christian symbol of divine suffering vol 2 evil and divine suffering the larger study focuses its inquiry into the testimonies to divine suffering themselves seeking to allow the voices that attest to divine suffering to speak freely then to discover and elucidate the internal logic or rationality of this family of testimonies rather than defending these attestations against the dominant claims of classical christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from christian discourse about the nature and life of god this second volume of studies proceeds on the basis of the presuppositions of this symbol those implicit attestations that provide the conditions of possibility for divine suffering that which constitutes divine vulnerability with respect to creation as identified and examined in the first volume of this project an understanding of god through the primary metaphor of love god is love and an understanding of the human as created in the image of god with a life though finite analogous to the divine life the imago dei as love the second volume then investigates the first two divine wounds or modes of divine suffering to which the larger family of testimonies to divine suffering normally attest 1 divine grief suffering because of betrayal by the beloved human or human sin and 2 divine self sacrifice suffering for the beloved human in its bondage to sin or misery to establish the possibility of redemption and reconciliation each divine wound thus constitutes a response to a creaturely occasion the suffering in each divine wound also occurs in two stages a passive stage and an active stage in divine grief god suffers because of human sin betrayal of the divine lover by the beloved human divine sorrow as the passive stage of divine grief and divine anguish as the active stage of divine grief in divine self sacrifice god suffers in response to the misery or bondage of the beloved human s infidelity divine travail focused on the divine incarnation in jesus of nazareth as the active stage of divine self sacrifice and divine agony focused on divine suffering in the crucifixion of jesus of nazareth as the passive stage of divine self sacrifice

The Hungry House 2020-09-28 between 1550 and 1650 marvellous stories of women giving birth to animals young girls growing penises and valiant men slaying dragons appeared in europe circulated in scientific texts and in the first two collections of fairy tales published on the continent Giovan Francesco Straparola's Le piacevoli notti and Giambattista Basile's Lo cunto de li cunti the stories invigorated readers and established a new literary genre despite the fact that the printed European fairy tale was born in Italy however contemporary readers tend to think of France or Germany as the genre's place of origin fairy tale science looks at the birth of the literary fairy tale in the context of early modern discourses on the monstrous and explains how scientific discourse and literary theories of the marvellous limited the genre's success on its native soil Suzanne Magnanini argues that men of science positioned the fairy tale in opposition to science and fixed it as a negative pole in a binary system this system came to define both a new type of scientific inquiry and the nascent literary genre Magnanini also suggests that by adopting theories of the monstrous as metaphors for their own literary production Straparola and Basile aligned the literary fairy tale the feminine and the monstrous and essentially marginalized the new genre fairy tale science expands our understanding of the early modern European imagination and investigates the complex interplay between scientific discourse and marvellous literature

An Ode to the Big Toe 2017-09-05 echoing events questions the perpetuation actualization and canonization of national narratives in English and Dutch history textbooks wide reaching media that tendentially inspire a sense of meaning memory and thus also identity the longitudinal study begins in the 1920s when the League of Nations launched several initiatives to reduce strong nationalistic visions in textbooks and ends in the new millennium with the revival of national narratives in both countries the analysis shows how and why textbook authors have narrated different histories which vary in terms of context epoch and place as echoing events by using recurring plots and the same combinations of historical analogies this innovative and original study thus investigates from a new angle the resistance of national narratives to change
