in the following pages are reproduced the contents of some lectures delivered by me at copenhagen in june last in connection with the general meeting of the scandinavian theosophical society what is here set forth was therefore spoken to an audience acquainted with occult science or theosophy a similar acquaintance is assumed in this work it is throughout based on the foundations given in my books theosophy and an outline of occult science to anyone taking up the present work who is unacquainted with these premises it must needs appear the strange outpouring of mere fancy but the above named books point out the scientific basis of everything stated in this one i have completely re written the shorthand report of the lectures nevertheless it has been my intention on publishing them to preserve the character given in oral delivery this is specially mentioned because it is in general my opinion that the form of work intended for reading should be quite different from that used in speaking i have expressed this principle of mine in all my earlier writings as far as they were intended for the press 4 if in this instance i have worked out my subject in closer connection with the spoken word it is because i have reasons for letting the work appear at this juncture and an adaptation completely in accordance with the above rule would take a great deal of time rudolf steiner munich august 20 1911

it took author richard gene ph d nearly thirty years of contemplation and research to construct and record his comprehensive model of the spirit world unlike many other books on spirituality that limit their descriptions or definitions gene s model as outlined in connections with the spirit world is non judgmental and inclusive he maintains that humans cannot formulate complete models and that there are no incorrect models only incomplete ones we ought not declare models incorrect simply because they don t work for us they work for somebody and that is why they exist gene s model correlates with all the common everyday happenings and feels like a natural part of life as a spiritual model should feel it explains why we sleep why dreams tend to be surrealistic how our body knows how to heal how our instincts and intuition work how we have a natural partnership with our creator and why we need to make it mutually beneficial for our creator and ourselves his model explains how we receive spiritual guidance every moment of every day guidance that is consistently gentle caring nonjudgmental undemanding and comfortable connections with the spirit world offers a refreshing new perspective that will help you grow spiritually
