as democracy shows signs of decay how do we not only arrest its decline but build something better a state which is democratic in the fullest sense the foundations upon which our democracies stand are inherently flawed vulnerable to corrosion from within what is the remedy a c grayling makes the case for a clear consistent principled and written constitution and sets out the reforms necessary among them addressing the imbalance of power between government and parliament imposing fixed terms for mps introducing proportional representation and lowering the voting age to 16 the age at which you can marry gamble join the army and must pay taxes if you work to ensure the intentions of such a constitution could not be subverted or ignored as democracies around the world show signs of decay the issue of what makes a good state one that is democratic in the fullest sense of the word could not be more important to take just one example by the simplest of measures neither britain nor the united states can claim to be truly democratic the most basic tenet of democracy is that no voice be louder than any other yet in our first past the post electoral systems a voter supporting a losing candidate is unrepresented his or her voice unequal to one supporting a winning candidate who frequently does not gain a majority of the votes cast this is just one of a number of problems all of them showing that democratic reform is a necessity in our contemporary world

excerpt from the government class book a manual of instruction in the principles of constitutional government and law the study of the principles of political science is a necessary part of a liberal education in a country where the people govern themselves the science of government is a necessary part of a common school education in the united states the people elect their own law makers and rulers establish their own constitutions and determine even the fundamental principles upon which men shall be governed the danger of entrusting such power to the ignorant has not failed of illustration in our states and cities having universal suffrage the people must learn to govern themselves for the sake of their own preservation and welfare nor is a knowledge of the principles of legal science less necessary to every citizen the laws of man know as little of mercy as the laws of nature in that law never admits ignorance as an excuse for wrong it is a proof of the essential justice of our system of jurisprudence that so many citizens pass safely through life totally ignorant of the law and relying merely upon their own sense of what should be and yet every day gives proof that ignorance is always dangerous the study of such a work as this will not make a youth a lawyer but it will fix in his mind a system of broad principles which cannot fail to be useful practically about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
